- Edit - one of the provided functions we are looking at that won't be used with one exception..."find (on this page)..."
Many web pages are very long, and if you are searching for specific information use this to find that in the page without having to read the entire page
- View - allows you to customize the way you see the page, and what parts of it you want to show.
Also, very importantly, the text size function allows you to enlarge type for easier viewing. Several other function are in this menu.
- Favorites - provides an easy way to browse web sites that your already found and plan to return to. It also provides the ability to organize your sites into folders, and an easy way to delete sites you no longer use.
- Tools - We will look at a couple of items you may want to be familiar with in "Internet Options". Choose your home page and further customize your browser.
- Help - Under Help you will find the answers to many questions, click on "Content and Index" to locate the subject of your question. This will save you many hours of looking for someone to answer your question.
